The KED was a 110-foot derelict fishing trawler that Bill Sesko allowed to be moored adjacent to the Pennsylvania property. Then the owner took off, never to be seen again. I've attached a couple of pictures of it.

What's the KED?

OK, I am considering this Sesko doc our meeting for tomorrow! Thanks, Janet.

They are situated on the tidelands of the State, so I don't have jurisdiction. It would be nice if they were removed for the improved view, but It took years to get rid of the KED, and I think the pontoons are not a high priority in the world of derelict vessels. Funding is always an issue and they want to remove the worst first.

OK, thanks Janet!

So DNR has the land there? The city doesn't have a position on getting rid of them?

I think that's probably all there is. I'm sure he talked about it in court, but I think this is probably the only written description of them. You could call DNR and find out if they have plans to remove them. The person I was dealing with was Melissa Ferris, but that was years ago.

Thanks Janet! Am I still coming to visit tomorrow? Is there more than this to find?

Josh,

In paragraph 5 on the attached Declaration, Bill Sesko talks about the "pontoons".
